

Todd

Ducks dig! Using their bill, ducks will forage for food in soft soil and mud. Ducks will dig up food like worms, grubs and other insects as well as seeds and roots.

Todd is the fastest at digging up roots and running with them.

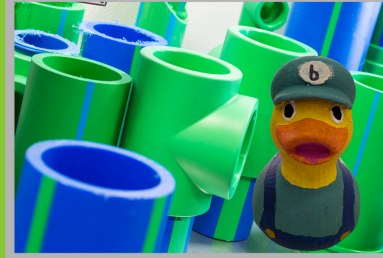

Todd

Ducks dig! Using their bill, ducks will forage for food in soft soil and mud. Ducks will dig up food like worms, grubs and other insects as well as seeds and roots.

Todd is the fastest at digging up roots and running with them.

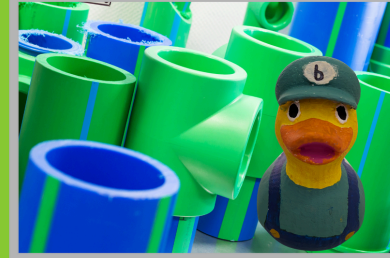

Little Bro

Ducks may fly at a wide range of altitudes. A typical height of 100-500 feet is normal for day time travel, but over migration, some ducks have been as high up as jets at over 21,000 feet in the air.

Little Bro is slightly slower than Big Bro, but he can jump higher for a longer period of time.

Little Bro

Ducks may fly at a wide range of altitudes. A typical height of 100-500 feet is normal for day time travel, but over migration, some ducks have been as high up as jets at over 21,000 feet in the air.

Little Bro is slightly slower than Big Bro, but he can jump higher for a longer period of time.

Peaches

Ducks have taken residency at all sorts of fancy homes like castles or hotels like The Peabody hotel in Memphis, Tennessee. This hotel is known for its ducks.

Peaches can jump high and glide gracefully back down to earth.

Peaches

Ducks have taken residency at all sorts of fancy homes like castles or hotels like The Peabody hotel in Memphis, Tennessee. This hotel is known for its ducks.

Peaches can jump high and glide gracefully back down to earth.

Big Bro

Ducks are fast flyers, generally, ducks fly on average between 40-60 MPH. Some ducks can fly very fast at 100 MPH, while other ducks like to fly more slowly at around 30 MPH. (That's Miles Per Hour)

Big Bro is faster than Little Bro, but Little Bro can jump higher and for a longer time in the air.

Big Bro

Ducks are fast flyers, generally, ducks fly on average between 40-60 MPH. Some ducks can fly very fast at 100 MPH, while other ducks like to fly more slowly at around 30 MPH. (That's Miles Per Hour)

Big Bro is faster than Little Bro, but Little Bro can jump higher and for a longer time in the air.

